Offer this Stepfamily Parenting Program - a Video Series with Parent's Guide

Step-parenting introduces a host of new challenges. If you are a step-parent, you may have had some frustrating experiences trying to apply traditional parenting skills to all of the complexities of stepfamily living. Parenting in a stepfamily requires a combination of traditional parenting skills and also a specialized knowledge that shows how stepfamilies are different. This program will help guide stepfamilies through some of the "troubled" waters and also teach skills that will help stepfamilies to learn how to "blend".
